

Have You Seen It?

Have you seen or talked with your neighbors about the new International No. 4 Riding Cultivator, painted green and blue with steel pole?

Whether you are going to buy a cultivator or not, come in and look over this Cultivator. The designer was 5 years in perfecting this machine to make it the strongest, the most handy and the most simple cultivator on the market.

You can dodge the most crooked corn; hold it up a hill-side at your will, and can follow a row of corn with the horses walking directly on it.

You have heard of this cultivator for it has created one of the greatest sensations of any machine that was ever offered the farmer.

If you want one, buy early.

Our Dear Father.

Death has been, and borne away A father from our side; Just in the evening of his days Our loving father died.

Not long ago he filled his place, And sat with us to learn; Now he has run his mortal race, And never can return.

Perhaps our time may be as short— Our days may fly as fast; O! Lord impress this solemn thought,

That this may be our last. God needed one more angel, Among his shining band; So he reached down for our dear father,

And clasped his dear hand. O! how we miss our dear father, When we see his vacant chair; We miss him at the table, We miss him everywhere.

We can't see why he had to go, And leave us here behind; But we can only look to God To ease our troubled mind.

We go mourning every day, We can not help but weep; Our hearts are sad and lonely, Since dear father fell asleep.

ASPIRIN

Druggists also sell larger packages. Aspirin is the trade mark of Bayer Manufacture of Monaceticacidester of Salicylicacid. Adv.

No love in all the world so strong,
No love so deep and pure;
Through absence, and through waywardness,
That love will still endure.
The prayers that swiftest wing to heaven,
Are those that father prayed;
For in the thoughts of his dear children,
The father did abide.

You are gone, dear precious father;
Never more we'll see your face,
'Til we meet o'er the river,
In that happy dwelling place.
Farewell to our dear father,
You won't be with us any more;
We hope to meet you some day, in joy,
On that bright and happy shore.
Around the green mound in the cemetery,
Will linger your family, in tears;
And above it will weep the sad willows,
But father is free from all cares.
—Grace Baker.

In Memory of Mother.

One of the three most precious words in language is "mother." The voice of mother charms the child as no other voice can do. The presence of mother dispels all the fear the child believes; the embrace of mother protects from every danger. In her voice, in her words, in her presence, in her touch, in her smiles, in her embrace—is the child's heaven. Oh, what a personage is mother. No doubt we caused her many sleepless nights and weary days; but with motherly patience and queenly beauty she led us through all the years of home life. Back over which we think today, and recall the many instances in our younger life when her counsel and model life was our refuge. We knew always we loved you, mother; but, now since you have gone and we hear you speak no more, now since we see your smile no more, now since we only have the fond memory of your motherly affection expressed in the tenderest sympathy, we can now fully realize your worth to us. Whatever the battles of life were, it is all past. And though past, left to us a Christian heritage of far greater value than gold. Gold may be forgotten, but thy life is immortalized, and we can not forget. "Blessed are the dead which die in the Lord; from henceforth, yea, saith the spirit, they may rest from their labours, and their works do follow them." It breaks our hearts that you had to go; yet we know it is heaven for you. No more will you be weary; no more will your precious heart ache; no more will you toil and suffer. Sleep, dear mother, and take your much needed rest. Sing on, sainted soul, in the presence of, and association with your saviour and loved ones, in the place prepared for you. By His grace we will try to follow your footsteps, that will bring us to meet where parting is no more. We will not forget to try to make the few remaining days of father as pleasant as is possible for us to do. We do it in memory of you.—"Mother" written by J. E. Seal, pastor.

CARD OF THANKS.

RECORD OF THE PAST.

No Stronger Evidence Can Be Had.

Look well to their record. What they have done many times in years gone by is the best guarantee of future results. Anyone with a bad back; any reader suffering from urinary troubles, from kidney ills, should find comforting words in the following statement.

R. L. Martin, carpenter, Cabool, Mo., says: "Doan's Kidney Pills certainly are a fine old kidney remedy and I am glad to say a good word in praise of them. Some time ago my back and kidneys were all out of sorts. When I tried to bend over it hurt my back and sharp pains would shoot up through my back and I could hardly straighten up. My kidneys were in bad shape and caused me to feel miserable. One box of Doan's Kidney Pills cured me of this trouble. Doan's are certainly a fine kidney remedy."

The above statement was given July 28, 1916 and on January 12, 1920, Mr. Martin said: "I haven't had any further need of a kidney remedy since I recommended Doan's Kidney Pills. I am glad to confirm all I said at that time." 60c at all dealers. Foster-Milburn Co., Mfrs. Buffalo, N. Y.—Adv. No. 56
